RE: Protect the Charitable Giving Incentive

Dear Senator Baucus:

Thank you for your acknowledgement of the critical role of Montana's nonprofit organizations and your congratulations to the Montana Nonprofit Association in your opening remarks during the Senate Finance Committee hearing on the charitable deduction. One of the most heart-warming aspects of living in Montana is the connections we have with each other, and your comments underscored your connection with and appreciation of nonprofit efforts in various corners of our state. Thank you.

The Montana Nonprofit Association is honored to be among the nearly 200 Montana nonprofit organizations and almost 4,000 nationally that have signed onto the attached nonprofit community letter expressing the need for and importance of the charitable giving incentive for individuals. Collectively, the signing nonprofits employ millions of Americans and serve tens of millions in our local communities.

The attached letter from nonprofits across Montana and 49 other states urges you and your colleagues on the Joint Select Committee on Deficit Reduction to provide your full support for the giving incentives in federal tax law. Congress needs to ensure that charitable contributions can continue to support vital programs and services throughout Montana. Specifically, we ask that the deficit reduction committee include in any tax reform instructions a clear, express statement that the charitable giving incentive shall not be weakened.

We recognize that the challenges before the Joint Select Committee are enormous. In turn, we ask you to recognize that as this brutal economy has led governments at the federal, state, and local levels to cut and even abandon public programs, the weighty burden of meeting basic human needs increasingly falls on the already strained backs of charitable nonprofits. Montana's nonprofits do not have the capacity to continue to bear this additional burden. If the Joint Select Committee weakens the charitable giving incentive, it will harm not only a sector of the state's economy that currently employs about 10 percent of the workforce, but it also will hurt Montanans throughout the state who will no longer receive needed programs and services – and ultimately increase the costs to governments and taxpayers who will then be forced to step in and inefficiently try to re-create service delivery mechanisms. Indeed, that is one of the many social values of the charitable giving incentive: a healthy charitable sector lessens the burden of government.

A quick snapshot of charitable contributions in Montana shows that our nonprofits currently receive about 19% of their funding from charitable contributions (September 2011, National Center for Charitable Statistics). In 2006 – which is the most recent IRS data available, 25% of all Montana tax returns were itemized. Of those, 81% reported charitable contributions totaling $377 million. The average amount on each return was $3,281. Significantly – 94% of households earning more than $200,000 reported charitable contributions, and their average contribution was $16,074 – a whopping 390% increase over all other households. (IRS, Charitable Giving by Households that Itemize Deductions – AGI and Itemized Contributions Summary by Zip, 2006.) Charitable giving from high income households is critical in Montana. Again – we ask that the deficit reduction committee take a clear stand against weakening the charitable giving incentive.

The Montana Nonprofit Association is proud to transmit the attached letter joined by almost 4,000 nonprofits nationally that asks you and your colleagues in Congress to “avoid endangering the ability of nonprofits to serve your constituents and our communities by making a clear statement in support of the charitable deduction and in opposition to proposals to reduce or cap the value of deductions for charitable contributions.” We also encourage you to consider the unsolicited comments we have received from Montana nonprofits about the harm that changes to the charitable giving incentive would impose here in Montana:

- “In my 40 years of working in the charitable sector, both for Yellowstone Boys and Girls Ranch and as a consultant for many Montana charities covering the gamut from the rescue mission to the university, I have never been so concerned about the future ... than I am today.” Yellowstone Boys and Girls Ranch Foundation, Billings, MT
- "Charitable giving is the backbone of our organization. Our churches perform humane services to those who are falling between the cracks of social programs. The working poor need the assistance that churches can sometimes provide. Those who are supporting the churches should not be punished for their compassion." Montana Association of Churches, Helena, MT
- "We are beginning to work on a $6 million capital campaign to repair, improve and expand our facility. This will create jobs and help our citizens become healthier and have safe options to spend family time together. I believe the legislation being considered would negatively affect our efforts to procure donations sufficient enough to start this project." Helena Family YMCA, Helena, MT
- "We are supported entirely by donations. Our donors appreciate being able to deduct their contributions. We provide a very valuable service that keeps people with mental illness well. It is doubtful that we could survive." NAMI Billings, Billings, MT

We ask that you join us in standing up for the Montanans served by, working for, and donating to the nonprofit community by protecting the charitable giving incentive so it is not weakened in any way.

Sincerely,

Liz Moore
Executive Director

Letter from the Nonprofit Community on the Charitable Giving Incentive

November 7, 2011

The Honorable Max Baucus
United States Senate
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Senator Baucus:

The undersigned nonprofit organizations urge the Joint Select Committee on Deficit Reduction to expressly preserve the charitable giving incentive for individuals so that charitable contributions can continue to support the vital programs and services on which communities and policymakers rely.

The work of nonprofit organizations throughout the United States, as reflected by the diverse organizations identified below, improves lives, strengthens communities and the economy, and lightens the burdens of government, taxpayers, and society as a whole. Nonprofits employ more than 13 million individuals nationally and contribute more than five percent to the Gross Domestic Product of the United States. Your constituents recognize the vital and ongoing work of nonprofit organizations in delivering essential services, enhancing their quality of life, and uplifting the spirit of faith, innovation, and inspiration in local communities across America.

The Joint Select Committee will undoubtedly be considering cuts in federal spending and reforms to tax laws and entitlement programs. Those changes could undermine the ability of nonprofits to maintain programs and services, much less to expand them to meet the increased needs that will result from the lagging economy and policy choices being made at all levels of government. Under these conditions, nonprofits may not merely be the next place for people in need to turn; we are likely their only place to turn. Charitable nonprofits across America must be able to count on the current tax incentives for charitable giving if there is to be any validity in the presumption of policymakers that nonprofit organizations will be there to fill the gaps.

It is imperative that Congress make no changes to the charitable giving incentive that threaten the ability of nonprofit organizations to serve those most in need and to continue to strengthen our communities. We ask that you avoid endangering the ability of nonprofits to serve your constituents and our communities by making a clear statement in support of the charitable deduction and in opposition to proposals to reduce or cap the value of deductions for charitable contributions.

Sincerely,

National, State, and Local Nonprofit Organizations (see attached list)
